Robert T. Abbott : Baseball Card Dealer Directory 1990 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Baseball Card Dealer Directory 1990:

This directory is designed to meet the information needs of the rapidly increasng numbers of people taking up this hobby and investment opportunity. It is divided into three sections: The first lists over 5000 dealers by name and address and gives a full description of the products or services which they offer. The second section is a speciality index which lists dealers by speciality items on offer. The third, a geographical index, divided by city within each of the fifty states in the US. The last section is composed of a dealer's name and numbers index.
