Mr. O.P.C Ehirim : Girls before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Girls:

Girls! It tells an amazing story denominated by a rising communal fraternity which poses a threat, and makes no pretense that threatened or not, girls loom larger than civil contempt, huddles and risks that beset those in this category.

About the Author Given the timely advise to switch to writing, by the country director of a German based mining company in the north central of Nigeria, the author gave it his best shot. He was born in Owerri, South-east Nigeria. He lives in Abuja and has seven titles to his name.
